DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/10/2008 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1,2,5,8-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Kushner et al (6633839) in view of Gao et al (6581032).

As per claims 1,2,5,6, Kushner et al (6633839) teaches a distributed speech recognition system with a subscriber unit (col. 1 lines 5-10, Fig. 1) showing a feature extraction module (as extracting mfcc values – fig. 7); using a voice activity detection module for voice activity (col. 6 lines 34-59); and a wireless transmitter to transmit the detected activity and the features corresponding to different portions of the speech signal over a distributed voice recognition system (Figs. 1,2, and 3). Kushner does not detail the voice activity detection information to be delivered at least one frame before the features, however, Gao et al (6581032) teaches the distribution of the rate information to the decoder before frames of speech information are decoded (Gao, col. 12 lines 9-23 --> examiner notes that in this paragraph, Gao discusses the providing of rate selection information to the decoder ahead of the speech information; the rate selection of Gao is a measure of voice activity -- see col. 9 line 53 - col. 10 line 59 -- full/half(type 0 and type 1)/quarter/eight rate selection is based upon the level/type of speech activity in the frame). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art of speech packet information/distribution to modify the communication system of Kushner with a separate notification to the decoder regarding voicing activity because it would advantageously update the decoders in a timely fashion as to improve the quality of the reconstructed speech and maintaining the average bit rate (Gao, col. 12 lines 9-23; col. 5 lines 19-22).

As per claims 8,14,20, Kushner et al (6633839) teaches the use of 2 bits to command the speech synthesizer in terms of what type of speech activity is contained in the frame (col. 6 lines 34-38).

As per claims 9,10,15,16,21,22, Kushner et al (6633839) teaches using the speech recognition information for hands free voice dialing or hand free information retrieval (col. 1 lines 15-20) in a DSR (col. 1 lines 40-50).

As per claims 11-13,17-19,23-25, Kushner et al (6633839) teaches detection of silence (based on a limit of 4subframe energy comparison), features are frequency based (col. 6 lines 42-45), and lower bit rate during silence (col. 6 lines 58-65).

Claims 26-33 are computer readable medium claims that force a processor to perform the method steps of claims 1-25, (and furthermore, Kushner et al (6633839) teaches a dsp processor - one of ordinary skill in the art easily recognizes that a dsp processor contains memory with processor instructions - fig. 4); as such, claims 26-33 are similar in scope and content to the method claims 1,2,5,8-25 and are rejected under similar rationale as presented against claims 1,2,5,8-25 above.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.
